

Semi Conductor Machinery Component

Business Part

Semi Conductor Machinery Component

SNT Motiv is a key supplier of global semi-conductor machinery components. We have the highest global competitiveness in research and development and production technology. Based on our state-of-the-art facilities, the semi-conductor machinery component sector manufactures parts including Pneumatic Wafer lift, Throttle valve, Chamber assembly, and Main Frame Assembly.

Degas Chamber Assembly Line

Main Frame Assembly Line

Research & Development

SNT Motiv's competitiveness begins with the technology research center with capable researchers and excellent teamwork. The technology research center is run on the principle of "The Company to Better the World." It is dedicated to forming corporate values of creativity and challenge. The research center is striving to become the leader in global technology and to consistently strengthen its competitiveness.

Calibration Lab.

Quality & Environment Management System

SNT Motiv's number one priority is consumer satisfaction, which it achieves through high quality systems like IATF16949, APQP. The entire manufacturing production sector received the Environment Management Systems standards (ISO 14001). We are also recognized as an environment-friendly corporation through our self-motivated projects to prevent atmospheric and water pollution.

Quality & Environment Test

Certificate

IATF 16949 Certification

ISO 14001 Certification

ISO 9001 Certification

Defense Quality Management System (DQMS) Certification